

AMENDMENTS to the Teton County Building Codes Resolution

Adopted October 20th 2009

AMD 09-0021

Section 7A, International Building Code, 2006 edition, add Section 116, License Required Contractors performing work requiring a permit under this code shall be required to be licensed and have in their possession a contractor's license issued by the Town of Jackson, Wyoming.

Exceptions:

1. Owner(s) of a single family home performing work on their primary residence or associated outbuildings for their personal use. For purposes of this exception, homeowners who construct more than one house every two years in Teton County shall be considered contractors and shall be licensed.
2. Work being performed that does not require licensing by the Town of Jackson.

Section 7B, International Residential Code, 2006 edition, add Section 115, License Required Contractors performing work requiring a permit under this code shall be required to be licensed and have in their possession a contractor's license issued by the Town of Jackson, Wyoming.

Exceptions:

1. Owner(s) of a single family home performing work on their primary residence or associated outbuildings for their personal use. For purposes of this exception, homeowners who construct more than one house every two years in Teton County shall be considered contractors and shall be licensed.
2. Work being performed that does not require licensing by the Town of Jackson.

Section 7C, International Plumbing Code, 2006 edition, add Section 110, License Required Contractors performing work requiring a permit under this code shall be required to be licensed and have in their possession a contractor's license issued by the Town of Jackson, Wyoming.

Exceptions:

1. Owner(s) of a single family home performing work on their primary residence or associated outbuildings for their personal use. For purposes of this exception, homeowners who construct more than one house every two years in Teton County shall be considered contractors and shall be licensed.
2. Work being performed that does not require licensing by the Town of Jackson.

Section 7D, International Mechanical Code, 2006 edition, add Section 110, License

Required Contractors performing work requiring a permit under this code shall be required to be licensed and have in their possession a contractor's license issued by the Town of Jackson, Wyoming.

Exceptions:

1. Owner(s) of a single family home performing work on their primary residence or associated outbuildings for their personal use. For purposes of this exception, homeowners who construct more than one house every two years in Teton County shall be considered contractors and shall be licensed.
2. Work being performed that does not require licensing by the Town of Jackson.

Section 7E, International Fuel Gas Code, 2006 edition, add Section 110, License

Required Contractors performing work requiring a permit under this code shall be required to be licensed and have in their possession a contractor's license issued by the Town of Jackson, Wyoming.

Exceptions:

1. Owner(s) of a single family home performing work on their primary residence or associated outbuildings for their personal use. For purposes of this exception, homeowners who construct more than one house every two years in Teton County shall be considered contractors and shall be licensed.
2. Work being performed that does not require licensing by the Town of Jackson.